FIRST AID SOLUTIONS

First aid station, eyewash station, burn supply, CPR barriers and Kits, etc.

Emergency Preparedness

An injured employee plus an empty first aid station is not a good thing! That can mean extra pain and suffering, big medical expenses, increased worker's compensation rates, and OSHA fines. Despite good intentions, most companies find it difficult to find the time to keep their first aid stations adequately stocked and maintained. LuvMedical can help! Our knowledgeable and reliable service representatives will bring a fully stocked van to your business on a regular schedule. Our representative will CLEAN and ORGANIZE your first aid station and give you an INVENTORY of the items you need to REPLENISH with quality first aid and safety supplies.

Increase Worker Productivity

LuvMedical will help keep employees safely on the job by making sure that your employees have access to the first aid products they need to take care of minor injuries and discomforts quickly and efficiently, which equals, fewer clinic visits, reduced absenteeism and better overall productivity.

Lower Worker's Comp Rates

Our customers will likely have fewer recordable accidents and hospital visits while using LuvMedical first aid and safety services, and that means a lower worker's compensation modification rate. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure".

Reduce Medical Costs

Average clinic or hospital visits for minor accidents costs $400 or more! By having available necessary items on hand to effectively treat minor injuries, you can reduce the number of employees that are sent to local clinics or emergency rooms for minor first aid treatment.

Avoid OSHA Fines and Citations

We will keep your first aid station properly stocked in accordance with OSHA regulations and ANSI guidelines, in turn, will lower your risk of fines and citations. The Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA) spells out the requirements for workplace first aid in its General Industry Standards, CFR 29, 1910.151, Subpart K and in the Construction Standards, CFR 29, 1926.50, Subpart D. That regulation states, in part, that "...adequate first aid supplies shall be readily available."
